Administration

Mr. J. K. Bradford represented Canadian universities at the Eastern College Placement Officers Conference at Lake Placid, September 30-October 3.

Changes in location of several divisions of the University will take place as space is made available for overcrowded departments. Move of the School of Law to Glendon Hall on Bayview Avenue will allow the University Press's publications and accounting departments to move into Baldwin House. The Departments of Art and Archaeology, and East Asiatic Studies will occupy the President's former house at 86 Queen's Park. The President recently moved to 93 Highland Avenue. The space to be vacated at 5 Willcocks Street by the Department of East Asiatic Studies will be used by two offices now located in Simcoe Hall, those of the Varsity Graduate and the Publicity Department. It is expected that these moves will take place about January 1. The offices of the Faculty of Arts have moved from the office of the Registrar, Simcoe Hall, to 45 St. George Street, where the Dean, the Secretary and clerical and stenographic staff are now housed.

Members of the staff may obtain from the Publicity Department copies of the Report of the University's Plateau Committee, and also reprints of the five editorials which appeared in the Globe and Mail in July on "The University Crisis." These may be of special interest to those staff members who give addresses about the University to outside groups.
